

Ever since Indiana made their Do NOT Call list, the calls that I received from telemarketers went all the way down to basically no calls. If you rule that Credit Card companies can call me at any time by ruling that Indiana's DO NOT CALL LIST should include established business relationship exemption, the calls will go back up.

I would like to see the FCC rule against the CONSUMER BANKERS ASSOCIATION